

PROMINENT EDITOR TO MAKE ADDRESS

Dr. James A. MacDonald, of Canada, Accepts Invitation of Scottish Society.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Red Springs, N. C., May 3.—The Scottish Society of America and the Southern Presbyterian College and Conservatory of Music count themselves fortunate to have secured for their speaker at the meeting of the Scotch Society and the commencement of the college May 21, Dr. James A. MacDonald, editor of the "Toronto Globe."

In introducing Dr. MacDonald to a great audience at Washington, William Jennings Bryan, in his first speech as Secretary of State, said: "Dr. MacDonald is not only a distinguished citizen of a neighboring country, but is one whom I am glad to count among my personal friends. He stands in Canada as Gladstone for so many years stood in Britain, the representative of Christianity applied to government."

Dr. MacDonald received his education at the University of Toronto and the University of Edinburgh. In 1902 he became editor of the "Toronto Globe," the leading Canadian newspaper and party organ for the Liberals of Canada. Since then Dr. MacDonald has made an indelible mark upon the history of Canada. In 1907 he was made delegate to the Imperial Press Conference at London, and was presented to the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra. At this time, Dr. MacDonald was honored by an LL. degree from the University of Edinburgh, the first time in Britain that such a degree has ever been conferred upon a newspaper man for his services in the profession of journalism. He has frequently been offered nominations to the Legislature and Parliament, but has always declined.

In addition to his strenuous work as managing editor of one of the foremost papers in the country, Dr. MacDonald is also a member of the board of government of Toronto University. Dr. MacDonald is one of Canada's great orators. He had the honor of having been asked to deliver the Lincoln address on the occasion of the centenary in Chicago. When, on account of the ill-fated wreck of the Titanic, the late W. T. Stead was unable to fulfill his engagement to deliver the address on "Peace" at the world's conference in New York, Dr. MacDonald was chosen to take his place.

He and Mr. Bryan have often spoken from the same platform, and recently in the city of Washington and if, perchance, he lacks the eloquence of Mr. Bryan, he has at least a vigor

Individual Spring Raiment

The "Dreyfus" outer-garments have that individuality that is not found in other ready-to-wear raiment.

The superiority of the "Dreyfus" garment is the result of the inexhaustible ideas of designers who create the leading fashions for American women.

However, individuality does not necessarily mean exorbitant price—it all depends upon the ability of the designer, no matter what the price of the garment may be.

"Dreyfus" garments all have individuality, so sought after by women who would be correctly attired, and are moderately priced.

of utterance, a precision of statement and a clearness of thought that our honored Secretary of State lacks. He is a great man physically, intellectually and spiritually, a prophet of righteousness, who is honored both at home and abroad.

Dr. MacDonald is a fearless and fascinating orator of rare power. He comes with a great message. He is editor of the Toronto Globe, which he has made tremendous power in Dominion politics, because he actually stands up for Jesus Christ in his editorials; he tests and challenges men's lives by Scripture and Christ's principles. Not only is he a leader in Canadian politics, a student of world affairs and a power in them and a servant of Jesus Christ he is a brilliant speaker as well.

"If that man lived on this side the Canadian border, he would be President of the United States," said an enthusiastic admirer of Dr. MacDonald after listening to his oratory for an hour at a great meeting in New York recently. He possesses the gift of swaying an audience to such an extent that the passing of time is forgotten. Dr. MacDonald is coming to be recognized to be one of the strong forces in the civil and religious life of North America. He was for a number of years editor of the Westminster, a Presbyterian journal of Canada, being called thence to the editorship of the Globe, the leading liberal paper in Canada.

Nell Brinkley Says

If the sweet little ghost of my grandmother's youth should rustle into a little Chapeau Shop in this Springtime of nineteen-thirteen she would raise her little mitted hands to heaven in amazement—for behind the glass cases she would find the very cocked hats and the same wee bonnets that she fitted over her black curls in eighteen-sixty-eight. Oh, have you noticed them well—the "bit-liddies"—like little wedding cakes, tiny bowler crowns—all pink buds, field daisies, watered ribbon, brocade, flutings, with "streamers"—"flirtation ribbons," or, as they were called in Paris, "suives moi-jeune homme," hanging down the back in an old, old fashion long forgot? They are pushed down, too, over one's nose, and tilted up in the back. So look to the order of your back hair, oh, Bettys, as you have not had to look since hats jammed down to one's shoulders, all around, for the last two years, for your grand-dame's hats are here, and the nape of your neck is once more a thing of beauty to be gazed upon.

Nemo Week Will Help You to Win Style and Health!

Practically every important store in the United States, in Canada, and in other countries, joins this year in the celebration of Nemo Week.

This annual fashion event brings together all the Nemo inventions and improvements of the past year. It emphasizes more clearly than ever the important fact that—

Nemo Corsets are in a Class Alone, and Must be Considered Separately and Apart from All Other Makes Millions of women now refuse to wear any corset but the Nemo. Millions more will do so when they learn that all Nemo Corsets have—

Exclusive Style and Health Features of Inestimable Value to Every Woman, Which Cannot be Obtained in Any Other Corsets, at Any Price, nor Under Any Other Trademark, in Any Store in the World

These are some of the Nemo inventions that have made "Nemo" a household word in every country where corsets are worn:

1. The ingenious Nemo construction that "bridges the diaphragm," gives plenty of breathing space and freedom from constriction over the stomach section, no matter how tightly the corset may be laced. No woman wearing a Nemo ever feels that crushing, smothering pain that makes her rush home to get her corset off.

2. Cores and bands of semi-elastic Nemo Lastikops Webbing and Lastikops Cloth, that shape the corset closely to your form, and give you, with perfect comfort, the slender-hip effect of the so-called "corsetless figure."

3. The new Nemo "Lastikops-Back," which makes even the longest corset comfortable in any position, produces fashionable slender lines, prevents that ugly "corset-line," and holds the corset down where it belongs.

4. The famous "Lastikops Bandlet," made of Lastikops Webbing, which insures perfect and comfortable hygienic abdominal support, and has done more than medicine to preserve and restore the health of millions of women.

5. The Nemo Auto-Massage device and the Nemo "Limeship Extensions," which permanently reduce the surplus flesh of abdomen and upper limbs.

Every Woman Can Enjoy Up-to-Date Style, Improve Her Figure and Guard Her Health Through These Patented Nemo Inventions and Special Features—Used Only in Nemo Corsets
